

iPOMS — Contribution Summary & Compensation Request

A summary of the Placement Operations Management System built and maintained alongside my core role, and a request for its formal recognition.

WHAT THIS IS

Alongside my day-to-day work handling campus placement emails, calls, and coordination, I designed and built iPOMS — an internal placement operations system now used by our team every working day. It replaces the scattered Excel trackers each coordinator previously kept, with one shared, live system.

WHAT IT DOES

- Role-based logins for coordinators, team leads, and — new this month — college-side placement officers, each seeing exactly the view their role needs.
- Daily and weekly call tracking, replacing individually maintained spreadsheets with one shared, always-current source.
- Automatic report generation and sharing — reports that used to mean manually compiling data from several sheets now generate and export in minutes.
- Live visibility for college placement officers — partner colleges can now see live tracker updates directly, without us manually compiling and sending status updates.
- A full pass to close real security gaps in the system before they became incidents.

SCALE OF USE

WHAT BUILDING IT TOOK

I completed the core build in about one month, alongside my regular workload. This included working most Saturdays and Sundays (roughly 4–5 hours each) and staying on past my normal end time on weekday evenings to resolve issues as they came up — not because I was asked to, but because I wanted it working properly for the team. I'm proud of that level of ownership, and I want to make sure it's formally recognized rather than becoming an unstated expectation going forward.

MY REQUEST

One-time payment

Recognition for the build effort and personal time invested this month

₹50,000

Monthly compensation

Reflecting the added system-ownership responsibility, going forward

₹30,000

up from ₹20,000

I'd welcome the chance to walk through the system live and answer any questions. My aim with this note is simply to make sure this work — and the effort behind it — is visible and considered fairly, in a role that now includes both placement coordination and ownership of a system the whole team depends on.
